A large crowd attended the Remembrance Day ceremony in St. Albert at the picturesque corner of McKenny Ave. and Piron St. where the cenotaph now stands. Sgt. Maj. Jim Dobbie was Parade Marshall, and Ivan Brewster of the Canadian Legion, was in charge of the ceremonies. A Guard of Honor, consisting of Cpl. T.J. Sagan, Commander; Henry Plaquin, HMCS Nonsuch, Navy; Sgt. B. McGinnis, #23 Med. Coy. RCAMC for the Army; LAC P.A. Fitzgerald, RCAF Station, Namao for the Air Force; and Cpl. D. W. Lyndon, St.

Albert, for the RCMP, stood guard at the cenotaph, adding to the solemnity of the service. The Reveille was by the three Silver Buglers of the 23rd Med. Coy. RCAMC.

Father Chevrier, on behalf of the Roman Catholic population of St. Albert, said: "Since 1918, this yearly event is inviting people to group together and recall to our mind the end of the first world war. This humble token of gratitude to those who have offered their lives so generously for their country is very suitable. It gives us an opportunity to stimulate our Patriotism and at the same time, inspires us great thoughts for our own behavior. Plus thanking God for peace, this celebration held during the month of November is mostly dedicated to all the soldiers throughout our history who died for our great and noble cause. They were required to make sacrifices; they made them generously. Sacrifice is usually difficult and irksome. Only love can make it easy and perfect love can make it a joy. We are willing to give in proportion as we love, and when love is perfect, the sacrifice is complete. God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son and the Son so loved us that He gave Himself for our salvation. "Greater love than this no man hath, that a man lay down his life for his friends". In death, struggle is followed by triumph. Holy scripture tells us that the life upon earth is a warfare. We know that from experience.

No matter who we are and how we die, we are prepared for our triumph, for our reward, at different degrees. Based on our great Faith in God; His Goodness but also his justice; strengthened by our belief in the immortality of souls, is including a good prayer; that they may rejoice in everlasting happiness. And we, deeply moved at this sight, may we be mindful of our own frailty and mortality, that walking always in the ways of the commandments, we may, after our departure from this world, experience the merciful judgment of God."

Rev. Dawkins, minister of St. Albert Anglican Church, speaking for the Protestants in St. Albert, said, "We meet this morning to honour those who laid down their lives in the great conflicts of this century. On the 11th day, at the 11th hour on the 11th month, some 45 years ago, the guns fell silent and men climbed wearily from their trenches, hoping that war might never again cast its dread shadow on the land. In that hope they were disappointed. Again and again, and supremely in 1939, men have been called to lay down their lives in defence of their country, and for the freedoms, which by the grace of God, we enjoy.

At this time we honour those who responded to that call, and remember with gratitude the supreme sacrifice which so many of them made. But, at this time, as we think upon the dead, let us not forget the trust they have committed to us, or ever cease our labours in the cause of peace, that it may be preserved and handed on in each successive generation as their gift to all mankind."

Following the service, the official wreaths were laid by: Mrs. L. Fleming Silver Cross Mother; Mr. D.G. Rees, Legion Zone Commander; Col. A.D. MacPherson, DSO, ED - ADMS - Western Command; R. Schriber, President St. Albert Legion Branch; Mrs. L. Brewster, Pres. Ladies Auxiliary to Canadian Legion, St. Albert; Mayor William Veness, Town of St. Albert; Gerard Leblanc, St. Albert Lions Club; Henry Terrault, St. Albert Community League; Cliff Gallant, Knights of Columbus, also St. Albert Fire Dept., Air Force Cadets, Landing Trail Div. Boy Scouts of Canada, and many private citizens.

SKATING ON DANGEROUS ICE

Now is the time of year that so many boys and girls have waited for. Their skates are taken out of storage, sharpened and ready to go. Butthere are many places in our town where the ice is still too dangerous for skating. We saw many boys and girls on water that had only been frozen two days. There is a good possibility that it could crack and maybe take a life. Mothers and fathers, watch your children very carefully these days. Don't let a tragedy happen to spoil all the fun of this enjoyable winter sport. Know where your children are skating. Our local R.C.M.P. will be most happy to inform you about the condition of the ice. But, better still, wait till our St. Albert skating rinks are opened. Then nobody will have to worry.

TOBAGGANING ON DANGEROUS ROADS

What can be more fun than sliding down a hill on a toboggan, especially to early in the winter season? But, a warning also, about this very healthy sport. Don't use the roads for tobogganing. This is very dangerous. We saw boys and girls sliding down a hill along McKerny Ave and going right across this busy road. We wonder how long it will be before someone is hit by a car. We have many hills in our town where our children can have lots of fun with their toboggans without any danger from cars. Encourage your children to go to those places where they cannot harm themselves or others.

TRIPOD

The new play of the St. Albert On Sturgeon Players is called Tripod, which consists of three separate plays, called 'Happy Journey', 'Curse You, Jack Dalton' and 'Johnny Dunn'. All three are directed by Frank Glenfield, assisted by Kathleen Boulter.

We are proud to have in our town such an active drama group and we trust that their presentations will be attended by many of our citizens. The interest in our local drama group is growing every year and we hope that many newcomers as well as the oldtimers, will encourage our own drama group by supporting them in this important cultural activity. Tripod will be presented on Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23, in the auditorium of the new Paul Kane High School. Tickets are available from any member of the Drama Club or at the door.

DAVE'S MEAT MARKET

OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE

by Merle Vacirca.

How do you like your steaks? Rare? Medium? Thick? Thin? I like mine tender, flavorful and served with a smile! And that's how they come at Dave's Meat Market.

Dave has been in business across from the Post Office just four months and answers "Very good!!!" to the question "How's business?" It's not any wonder; he offers the finest quality in fresh and prepared meats. Personalized service lets you select the cut and size of your steaks and roasts. The variety of meats at Dave's is such that pleases every shopper. Specialties such as home style beef sausage and home made corned beef really add personality to everyday meals. Weekly specials help the harried homemaker stretch the food dollar. Custom butchering and quantity purchasing for the freezer owners are only part of his complete freezer service. Dave Johnston has been in the meat business for 7 years. He previously worked at Fort Saskatchewan, but commuting to and from St. Albert led him to open his own business here. He has another butcher for part-time and his mother, Mrs. Fred Johnston, works full time in the store. Dave and his family have lived in St. Albert for 5 years, and its rapid growth convinced him that a meat market was in great demand.

If you haven't yet been in to Dave's Meat Market, do drop in real soon. The meats are the best and the service is tops. For free delivery call 599-6404.

Memorial Sunday was observed at the 9:45 am service at the United Church on Nov. 10th. The service was observed as a church parade by the local chapter of the I.O.D.E. and the Scouts and Cubs, Guides and Brownies. Some 150 persons were included in the church parade besides the regular congregation. Dr. Schwarz preached on the theme of "Memorial Days" and took as his texts Deuteronomy 26:1-11 and John 6:30-36. He pointed out that the Hebrews based their memorials upon the great acts of God as He works His purposes in the affairs of men and how, in the New Testament, when people placed too much emphasis upon the works of Moses, Jesus reminded them that the exodus from Egypt was the work of God and that Moses was but a willing servant. Further, that it was in service that Moses achieved greatness. Dr. Schwarz called upon the congregation to regard memorial day, not as a time for bitterness or sentimentality but as a time to recall the works of God and to dedicate themselves anew to Christian service. The Choir, under the direction of Mrs. P. Upright, presented "A Hymn of Freedom" by Thiman.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Worship next Sunday, November 17, will be conducted by the Rev. Glen Marsh. Junior Choir practise is held following the morning service.

LIQUOR STORE OPENING

Mr. A. D. Elliott, Chairman of the Alberta Liquor Board, announced today the opening of the St. Albert Liquor Store in Grandin Shoppers Park, this Friday, November 15th.

Mr. F. Burghardt was appointed as Store Manager and his assistant will be Mr. Marcel Dauphinais.

Building a liquor store in St. Albert was not as easy as it looks. Several times it was delayed by unforeseen difficulties. For instance, the location of the store was discussed many months amongst the businessmen of St. Albert. But now, a very modern store will open on Friday and we hope that this store will bring more business to all businessmen in town.

The store will be open 6 days a week, from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

by William G. Horton, Minister
The Unitarian Church of Edmonton.

A responsible newspaper tries to present all sides of community controversies. This is why I was asked to make this statement. If it helps the people of St. Albert to come to reasonable decisions, I will be most pleased.

My position can be stated very simply. I am in favour of education, conducted by the community in the interests of efficiency and broad range of interest. What kind of education? Any kind which will help our children to become good citizens and happy, productive individuals. I think religious education helps to do this and therefore should be included in the school curriculum.

But let me be clear. Education is characterized by freedom, indeed encouragement to think on the part of the student and allegiance to fact and objectivity on the part of the teacher. Education is much different from indoctrination. Indoctrination is the implanting of doctrine in the minds of frequently helpless people. The leader (not teacher) is not concerned with free discussion because the subjects (not students) do not need to learn how to think for themselves. (In authoritarian countries such thinking is dangerous for the leaders.) Nor is the leader concerned with the truth of the message. He believes it himself and being objective is "not necessary". What he is working for is conformity to his doctrine and obedience to its enforcers.

Obviously, indoctrination has no place in a school. We wouldn't mind if our children decided in years to come to join the Liberal, etc Party, but we don't wish them indoctrinated into it by our schools. I see no reason why we shouldn't say the same thing about religion. No indoctrination, religious or otherwise, has a place in our schools.

The law permits religious indoctrination in the home and in churches. While I think this would be harmful to my children, other people are willing to do this. This produces narrow-mindedness, a proven fact. I don't wish my children to become bigots and I will fight vigorously any attempt to indoctrinate them. Indoctrination in a school dedicated to education, would be loathsome. I would be tempted to cease paying school taxes.

Religious education is a different matter. Catholic scholars have written objectively about the Protestant Reformation. I have been in classes with Jewish students learning from Christians about the Old Testament. I have taught classes in religion to Jews, Catholics, atheists, Protestants, Mormons, etc., with no particular difficulty. In fact, we all enjoyed it. But it would have been impossible to indoctrinate them. If I had tried to teach a single religion or ethical system, or had not permitted questions I would have been thrown out — and justly so. That would have been abusing the privilege granted a teacher. Education would have become indoctrination. Don't do it!

These remarks apply to St. Albert as to anywhere else. If you must break your school system into smaller parts, go ahead but realize that it becomes of lower quality and more expensive — hardly a bargain. Whether you call it Public, Separate, Catholic, or Protestant, its purpose is education, not indoctrination. Teach religion or ethics if you want, but make it objective, make it education. The world needs open-mindedness, not narrow-mindedness — whether people are United Church, Catholic, Anglican, atheist or anything else.

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS ?

Note Editor,

This is the first of a two-part series discussing the pro's and con's of Christian Education.

We thank the Rev. Horton for his contribution.

ST. ALBERT ON STURGEON PLAYERS

This week we would like you to meet the cast of the one act play HAPPY JOURNEY which is the third one of the "TRIPOD" which will be presented at Paul Kane School on November 22nd and 23rd.

All but one of this cast are new members to our club. Eleanor Wilson, who has played in "The Late Christopher Bean" and "Ladies in Retirement", is Ma Kirby, around whom all the other character revolve. As her two daughters Caroline 15, and Beulah 21, we are pleased to have Donna Burton and Sheryl Kirkpatrick two Grade 10 students at Paul Kane High School. Although these two young ladies have not acted before, you will be very pleased at the way in which they portray the two sisters.

Maurice Dusseault to whom we have already introduced you, as a member of the Johnny Dunn cast, takes the part of Arthur the young son.

As Pa Kirby, the strong, quiet, dependable father, we have Glen Norby, a teacher at Riverdale Junior High School in Edmonton. Glen has had past acting experience at the University of Saskatchewan from whence he graduated.

This is a most unusual play in that there are only two properties used on stage, a bed and a car made from chairs. Everything depends on the imagination of the audience and also, of course, the ability of the actors, by mime, to excite this imagination.

All through the play, the Stage Manager is on stage as though he were conducting a rehearsal, and explains odd points to the audience, which otherwise they might miss. As the Stage Manager, we have a young man, John Metelenbos, a Grade 8 student at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School, who has had previous experience when he played a street boy in "My Sister Aileen" at the Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton, three years ago.

This is a warm, delightful play which I am sure will touch the hearts of the audience.

As our set designer for all three plays we have been most fortunate in securing the services of Audrey Watson, wife of Dr. M. Watson of Edmonton. Audrey, a Lancashire lass who has been in Canada for six years, studies art at the University of Alberta and Edmonton Art Gallery. You will most certainly appreciate her artistic talent when you see the imaginative sets which she has designed.

This material will be produced by Alberta and B.C. firms. The plant will employ 20 to 25 persons.

The Party Line

In this, as in most communities, a fair share of the work is done by the ladies! The charity drives and canvasses, the young people's groups, the recreational and educational facilities are often due to the time and effort of the ladies. In St. Albert we are fortunate to have many ladies who spend their leisure hours working for us and our children. It's high time these ladies were recognized and thanked. Beginning next week, the ladies page of the St. Albert Gazette will feature a St. Albert lady who has contributed to the betterment of our town. She will receive a rose in a bud vase, courtesy of "Marline's Flowers". If you know of someone who should receive the 'Rose of the Week', send her name and a brief sketch of her contributions, to Box 596 or Box 1147, or drop it in the Gazette Box, 45 Sunset Blvd. It's only a small token of appreciation for their effort, but so often unsaid thank you's reflect ingratitude. We owe our ladies so much. Let's say thank you with a "Rose of the week".

S.O.S.

One of the guide companies here in St. Albert is in desperate need of leadership help. The situation is such that the company will not be able to continue unless someone comes forward to assist the leader. Remember your days as a young girl in brownies and guides! The fellowship training and good times you had there were largely due to the time and effort volunteered by the leaders. Anyone can help, whether experienced in the movement or not. It is pleasurable and rewarding work. Think it over and call the Commissioner Mrs. Rosaiter 599-6320, Mrs. Austin 599-7277 or Mrs. Mathews 599-7655.
